I don't often write testimonials or recommend companies unless they do an exceptional job for me. And in this case, I found that composing a testimonial about EVERYTHING GOES liquidators hard to describe as the entire operation from start to finish was just superb. Their staff of professionals are dependable and organized with a current knowledge of today's market prices. And placing a value on items that you have cherished over the years can be almost impossible for you as the homeowner. Their knowledge of current day pricing was "spot on". The staff of EVERYTHING GOES, headed by Andy, Linda and Jason have the years of experience to see that your items are priced correctly and sell for the highest possible dollar. But most of all, having your home prepared for an estate sale is a "Must Have" and this is one special area where Everything Goes really goes beyond their competition. EVERYTHING GOES came into my home and organized and structured the traffic pattern in my home to protect my home's interior and after the sale was complete, the home was left spotless. EVERYTHING GOES added the "Icing to the Cake" by providing a remarkable timely payment and the IRS approved paperwork for the items I chose to donate to charity.

Like I stated in the beginning, I don't often write or recommend companies unless they provide an "overall, exceptional experience" and one that I can recommend without jeopardizing a friendship. In this case I can only give Andy, Linda, Jason and their staff at EVERYTHING GOES an AAA+ rating. If you are considering hiring an estate liquidator, don't short change yourself, hire the very best in estate sale, hiring EVERYTHING GOES. I did and I couldn't be happier.
